EVENTS ARE GOOD, BUT...

Even though I am not where I want to be, I thank God I am not where I used to be.

There is a desire to progress in every man. Any man that does not wish to be better than the way he was yesterday is not normal.

Growth is a natural phenomenal. We are expected to advance in every areas of our lives, spiritually, physically, mentally and socially.

There is a purpose for our lives, a reason why we are born, and this purpose is what gives us fulfillment in life. Our purpose has a role to play in our Career, Education, Relationship, Business, Family and the Society at large.

And the journey of this purpose discovery and fulfillment starts with Self Discovery.

I discovered the first thing God will reveal to you before your purpose is *Yourself*

I also discovered that you can't discover purpose outside God. Because God is the creator of the whole universe including you.

We are all from God and for irrespective of your tribe, religion, status, culture, state or nationality.

Nevertheless, you must seek knowledge and at the same time find time to implement whatever you've been taught. But I've come to realize that, a lot of persons attend events with so much knowledge shared and adrenaline pumped..

We are motivated to push boundaries after each event, bit this motivation wean down after a few days..

That is why you should join the action takers today and register for this master class.
