Leadership.....

Leadership is the function of the designated positions and the exercise of the responsibilities involved in that position..

Leadership is measured by the degree to which one can influence others. Leadership is what people give to you after you have influenced them by your passion.. " If your actions inspire others to dream more, learn more, do more and become more, you are a leader

Each Person is meant to fulfill a unique Role....

Each person is meant to fulfil his unique part in the whole, each being responsible for leadership in his sphere of assignment and accountable ultimately to God the Creator.

To become a leader, therefore you must return to your original purpose.

Leadership can be summarized as contagious inspiration. After a vision is ignited in the heart of the leader and catches on in the hearts of others, it begins to be carried along by the energy and momentum of people who envision the possibilities of a better future, a more effective product, a new cure, a more enriching environment, a life-changing perspective, or a renewed Life.
